

Handling of New Packaging for Straumann Sterile Healing Solutions

July 2013

COMMITTED TO
SIMPLY DOING MORE
FOR DENTAL PROFESSIONALS

New Sterile Healing Solution – Handling Guidelines

Straumann is pleased to provide convenience to our customers through the Sterile Healing Solution and new package design.

To ensure your success when incorporating the Sterile Healing Solution into your practice, please be aware of the following handling guidelines:

1. 1st Open guarantee
2. Handle with care
3. Product identification

1. 1st Open Guarantee

- Outer cardstock box is protective packaging for the contents enclosed
- Once the cardstock box is open, it is not possible to close it. Returns of opened boxes will not be accepted

Rule of Thumb:

Wait until time of surgery to open the outer cardstock box

2. Handle with care

- Like all boxes, the cardstock box is susceptible to crushing, crumpling, and tearing if not handled and stored carefully.
- Straumann will ship the sterile healing solutions to customers in a sturdy cardboard shipping box to avoid damage to the packaging during shipping.

Rule of Thumb:

- Use extra care when receiving and stocking the new sterile packaging in inventory
- When returning or exchanging sterile healing components, be sure to ship them in a sturdy cardboard shipping box

2. Product Identification

- The new sterile packaging requires a change of habits. It is no longer plastic, so the product is no longer visible through the outer packaging.

Product identification
on the packaging

Rule of Thumb:

To identify the product inside, use the product description and product pictograms featured on 2 sides of the outer packaging.

www.straumann.com

COMMITTED TO
SIMPLY DOING MORE
FOR DENTAL PROFESSIONALSSM