Invitation to Straumann Investor Day

Andover, Massachusetts, 28 September 2007

On 28 September 2007 Straumann will host its first Investor Day at the company's US headquarters in Andover, Massachusetts (25 miles north of Boston).

This event will include presentations by senior management and independent experts on trends and issues in dental implantology, tooth restoration and oral tissue regeneration.

We warmly encourage analysts, brokers and financial institutions to attend and invite investors and interested clients.
